

Home to Heaven

A man dreamed about the Lord Jesus Christ coming to take him home to heaven. Of the end of his dream the man said, "I then realized that when that moment comes, I will have no time to think about anyone else. I will just be caught up in the great joy that Christ has come to take me home."¹

Reading this man's dream, I became emotional and began telling Jesus that when the time comes for me to go home, He Himself must come for me. With tears I said, "I do not want angels coming for me or loved ones coming to escort me home as many experience. I want You and You only to come for me, Jesus. Jesus, You must leave heaven and come for me."

I had expressed this heartfelt sentiment to Jesus before but this time was different. This time I heard Him respond. Jesus said,

John,

I always come for those who are my bride. The Father has given Me this privilege and it is My great joy to do so.

I walk My bride into heaven so that when people and angels see you for the first time, they see Me beside you. As they look, they will see that we are one forever. Then whenever they see Me again, they will also see you even if you are not with Me, and whenever they see you again, even if you are not with Me, they will see Me, forever. Forever we are one.

Tell My people to repent, John. Tell them to come out of Babylon the whore church, to forsake all, to not be a mixed offering but to follow Me to the complete end of themselves just as you have done. Tell them to pick up their cross and follow Me all the way to the end of themselves and then with Me, they will be complete. They will be one with Me.

Those who listen to you and follow Me all the way will shine like the stars in heaven forever. And when their time comes to enter heaven, I will come for them just like I will come for you. I will come for you, John. That is My promise, and I always keep My promises.

I love you, John, and you are greatly loved.

Yours forever,

Jesus
